Our Loyal Hearts Will Ever Hold...

Colonial '57

*Fairfax High School
7850 Melrose Avenue
Los Angeles, California*

... Faculty and Admin

Another year has passed, a year in which it has been our great good fortune to be Fairfax Colonials, some of us as students and some of us as staff. We have worked together, faced problems together, enjoyed good times together, in the school we all love. The personalities, activities, and achievements of the year are vividly and interestingly recorded in this splendid edition of our annual, The Colonial.

We take special pleasure in extending our very best wishes for success and happiness to all of the members of the distinguished graduating classes of 1957. Aloha!

Rhea Almaleh
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Annual Staff

"Our loyal hearts will ever hold..." is the theme of the 1957 Colonial. Colored pages are used for the first time at Fairfax in this year's book.

Rhea Almaleh did an outstanding job as Editor-in-Chief, as she worked unceasingly to achieve perfection in all phases of the book. Mr. Mark Lit could always be counted on to give advice. Herb Harwick handled the job of Photo and Layout Editor in a most commendable manner. Susie Jackson, Senior Editor, helped plan and organize the senior section. Bea Shelden and Ann Rosenblum handled the advertising affairs and sales, while Marcia Zeesman, as Art Editor, arranged for the art work. Sheila Lane, Rosalind Ross, Marlene Liebowitz, Larry Ritterband, Neil Shapiro, Fred Estrin, Bob Marcus, Dave Reinitz, Harvey Neims and Paul Fox worked diligently doing such jobs as typing, proof-reading and sales.

In such capable hands, how could the 1957 Colonial be anything but the greatest!

Judy Minkin
W '57 EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

W '57

At the reins of the W '57 Colonial Gazette was Judy Minkin. Ably assisting editor-in-chief Judy was Bob Fenton, who worked as managing editor.

In addition to these two capable journalists, Herb Harwick, Arlene Roland, Theo Gertler and Mike Robyn lent their talents, working as editors.

Together with the reporters, all of whom remained through the S '57 semester, this staff produced some of the finest papers in many semesters.

S '57

The S '57 Staff, captained by Editor-in-Chief Herb Harwick and Managing Editor Mike Robyn, published an outstanding paper.

This semester saw page editors Marcia Zeeman, Ann Rosenblum and Danny Isaacs do a wonderful job in the publication of the Fairfax weekly.

While the editors were busy organizing, reporters Marsha Appet, Fred Glantz, Lewis Holzman, Les Kandel, Dori Katz, Marion Oring, Allen Peckman, Wendy Pritzker, Dave Reinitz, Bea Shelden, Judy Sulecki, Marv Tarnol and Bruce Wolfe lent their excellent journalistic talents to produce this, the S '57 Colonial Gazette.

DAVID CAHN
Cadet Colonel

For the last two years the Fairfax High ROTC unit has made honor school, permitting the cadets to wear a small red star on their arm. Federal Inspection held May 10, highlighted one of our most successful years. This year the Fairfax Unit is expected to win honors again.

The Fairfax Unit is supervised by the Assistant Professor of Military Science and Tactics, Captain John R. Connelly, and the sergeant instructors, Master Sergeant Warren G. Smith, and Sergeant First Class LeRoy M. James. The Fairfax unit of the Reserve Officers Training Corps, led by Cadet City Colonel David S. Cahn had its most successful year since 1949.

THE RED HOUSE MYSTERY

A beautiful old manor, a ghost, an unexpected murder, and a houseful of very interesting people, were the ingredients of the W '57 Senior Play, The Red House Mystery.

Rich, vain and selfish, Mark Ablett, played by Saul Sacks was always acting a part. To have an audience for his vanity, he often gave house parties, and delighted in telling his guests the story of the ghost of Lady Ann, previous owner of the Red House.

Like the traditional Manor House ghost story, Lady Ann's ghost appeared on only one occasion—just before the death of the owner of the Red House.

Due to a prank played on him by Ruth Norris (Yvette Yeglin), Mark believed that he would die the following day. All his guests were amused at the trick, but not Mark—and for a good reason. He was murdered the next day.

With such controversial characters as Major Rumbold (Ronald Wallace), Ruth Norris (Yvette Yeglin), Matthew Cayley (Steve Romm), all of whom have a reason for hating Mark Ablett, there is a great deal of uneasiness felt by the other house guests.

Adding zest to the situation, and thoroughly confusing the police, was Antony Gillingham (Gerald Mast), who enjoyed playing amateur detective. Lending romance to the story were Betty Calladine (Hope Fox), and Bill Beverly (Alan Harris), who was in love with her.

As the play progressed, many complications arose, all of which were finally settled with a traditionally happy, but yet unusual ending.

Play

THE TAMING OF THE SHREW

A woman with a temper is sometimes fun to watch, and the man who can handle her is always hard to find. William Shakespeare created her, found him, and combined them in his sparkling comedy, THE TAMING OF THE SHREW.

The comedy, presented as the S '57 senior play, centers around the "taming" of one quick-tempered and unpredictable Katherine Minola (Sheila Brody and Linda Friedman).

Her younger sister, Bianca (Yvette Yeglin and Corky Gilbert) has two offers of marriage; but she cannot accept either of them. The reason? Unbelievable as it may sound to this non-Elizabethan generation, the Elizabethans quaintly insisted on marrying off the oldest daughter first. And getting married is exactly what Katherine refuses to do.

The situation may strike the reader as being rather odd — for Katherine is beautiful, young, and rich. But what man wants to marry a scolding, hot-headed, defiant woman?

The girls' father, Baptista (Ron Wallace), presents an amusing picture of a very confused man trying to do what is best, but is unable to understand his daughter Katherine. He is constantly trying to find a husband for her with the help of Grumio (Paul Keith) and Hortensio (Gerald Mast), suitors to Bianca.

Still, Katherine stands firm. She rejects suitor after suitor, and grows more disagreeable with every attempt at matchmaking.

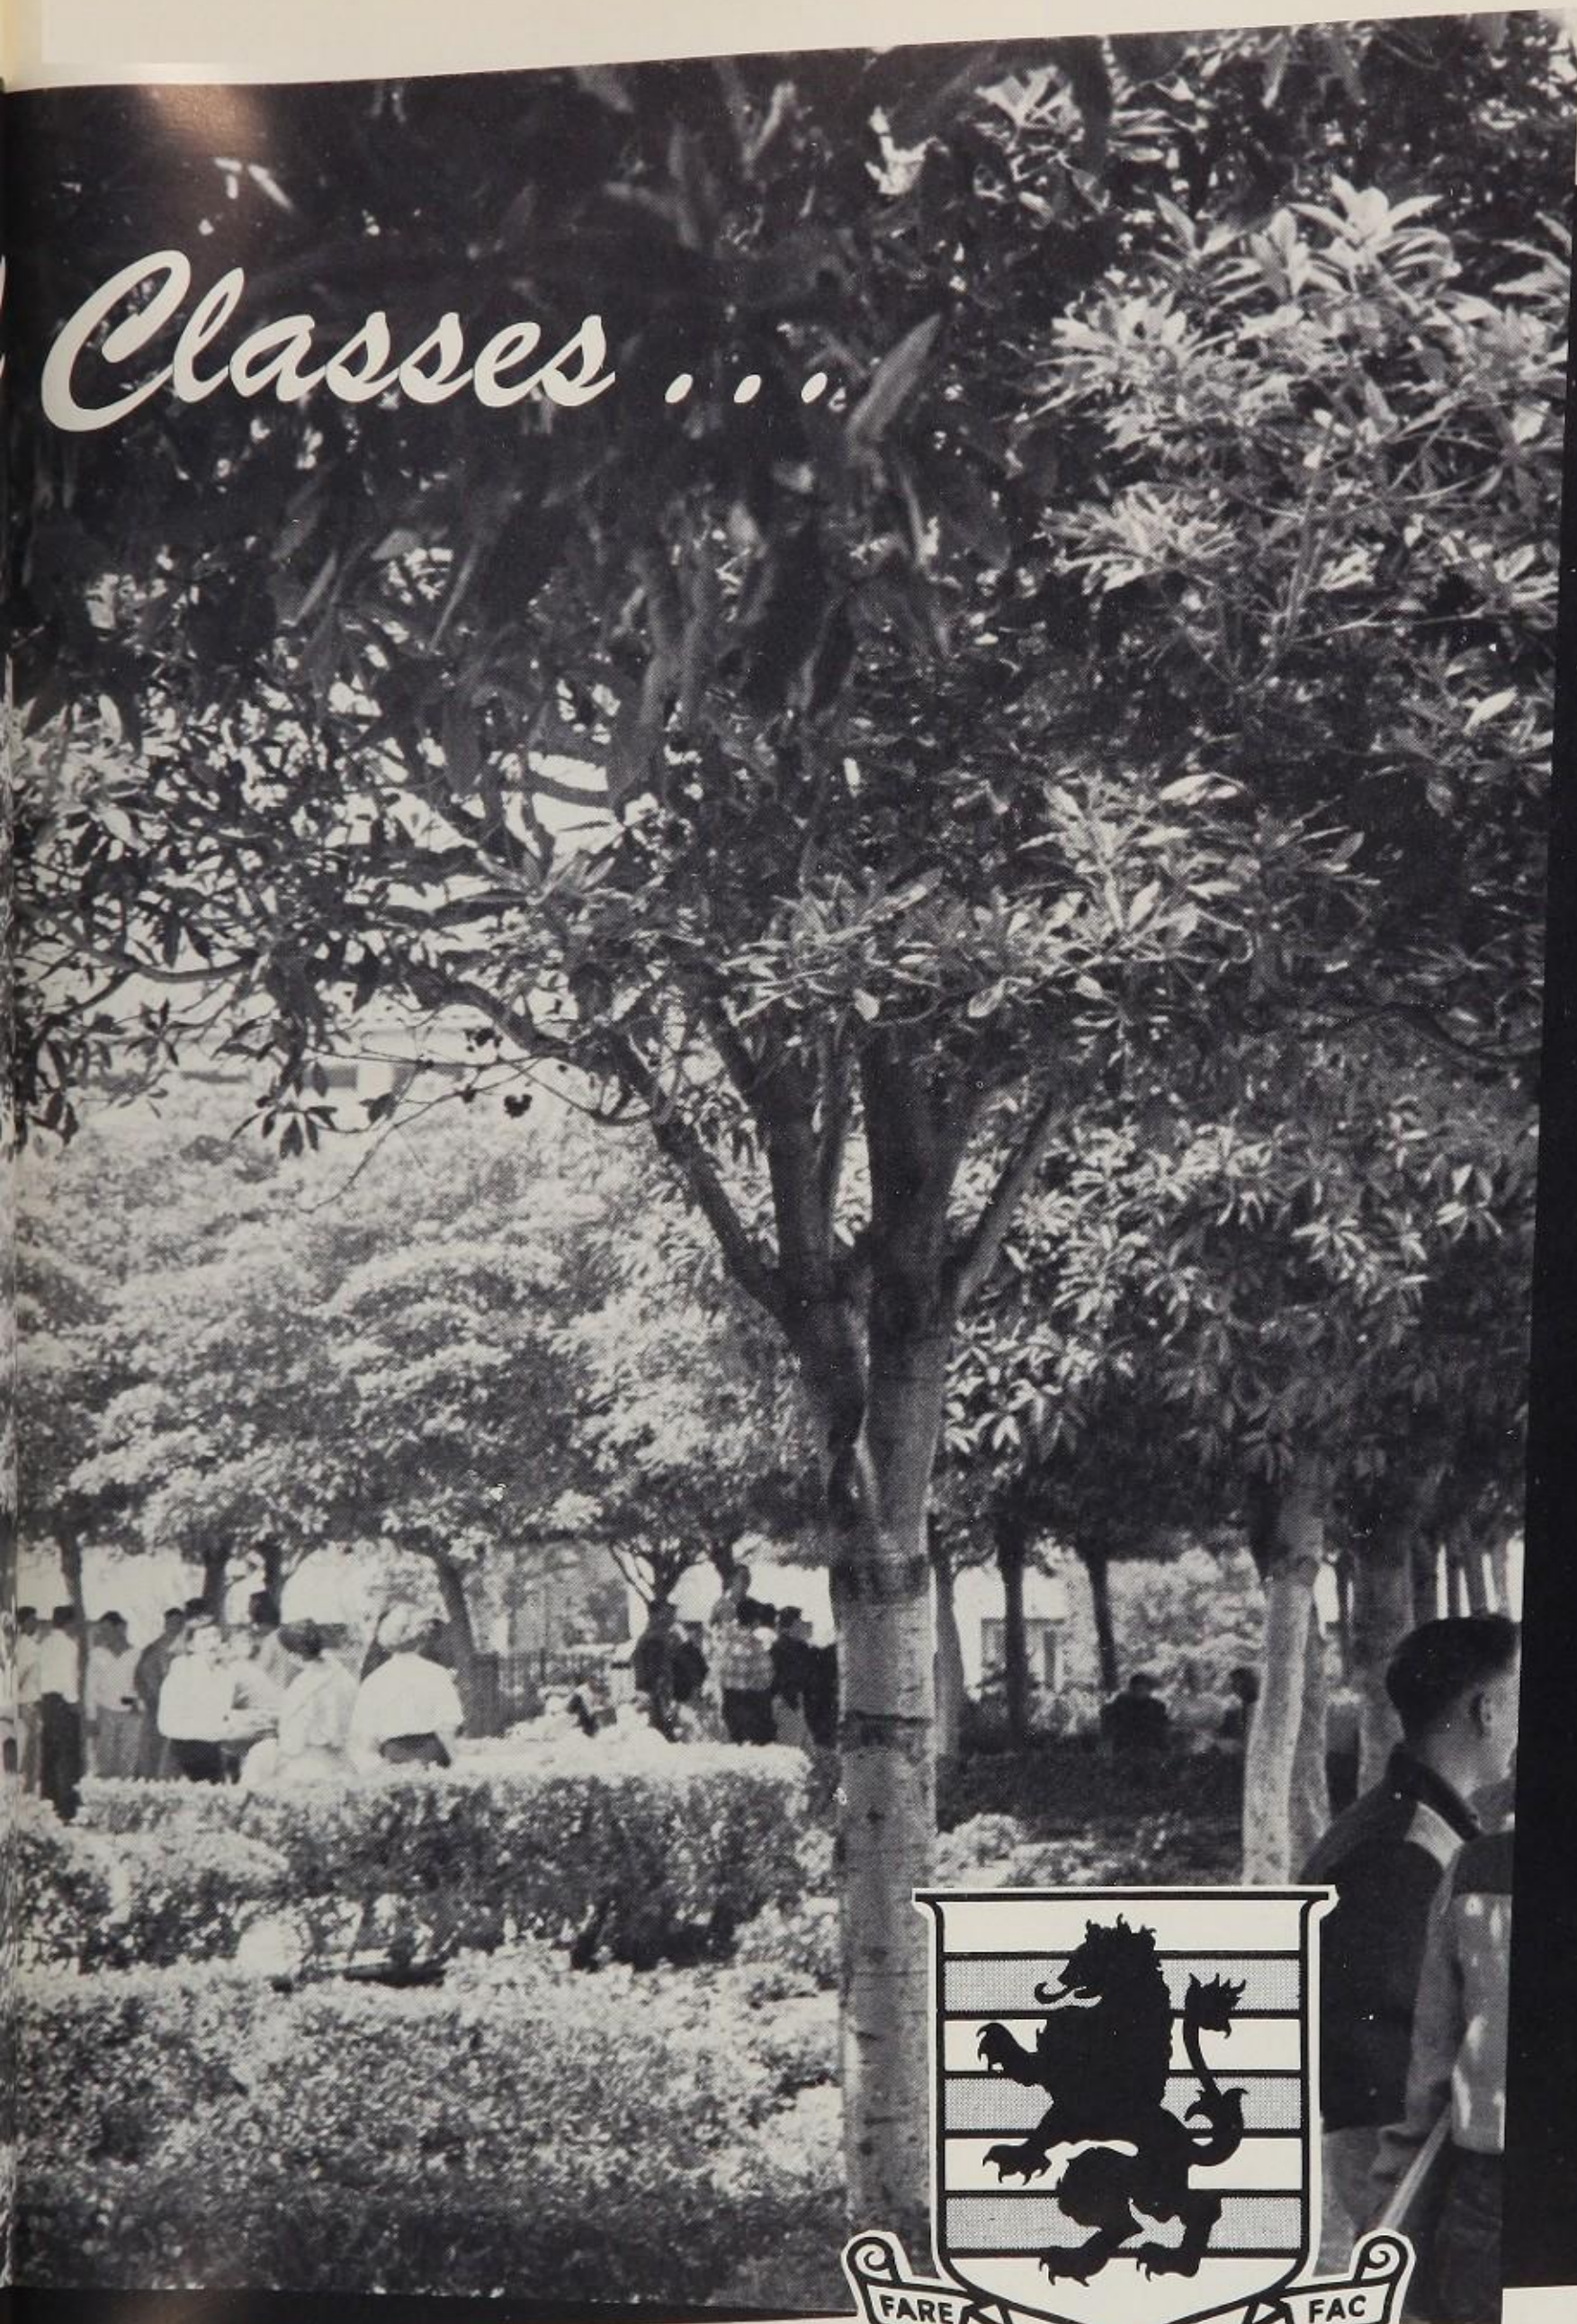

Along comes Petruchio (Antony George), a friend of Hortensio, with an eye for a beautiful woman, a fondness for beautiful money, and a complete disregard for displays of temper.

How the dashing, handsome Petruchio tames his tempestuous Kate was the theme of the very enjoyable Senior Play, Summer '57.

Varsity Football - Western League Champs

ROW ONE: Asst. Coach E. B. Smith, J. Kartz, B. Peters, R. Snookal, J. Silvera, J. Sutton, D. Larson, D. Kemp, M. Barnes, S. Davis, S. Stone, Coach Frank Shaffer. ROW TWO: M. Himmelstein, M. Shapiro, Capt. Al Yusem, B. Shinerock, L. Leiner, N. Allan, P. Holzman, J. Tiano, G. Horn, B. Bardavid. ROW THREE: A. Kleinman, S. Roden, H. Eisenberg, B. Schuster, M. Burton, J. Goldscher, S. Widre, G. Coden, Manager Sanford Kantor. ROW FOUR: J. Larson, L. Blonder, T. Friedman, N. Towne, L. Astrachan, E. Hurd.

The '57 Colonial football machine proved to be the best local outfit in the last ten years as they rolled to the Western League Championship with a four win, one loss record.

In the season's lid-lifter, the locals toppled highly ranked Belmont, 12-7. Marshall Barnes made the key play of the game from his half-back position when he scooped up a Belmont fumble and streaked down the field for the deciding TD.

The second practice tilt saw the Shaffermen romp past Gardena High, 25-13. Dorsey High provided the last practice game for the Lions as they thoroughly trounced Fairfax, 25-6.

The first league game against Hamilton was one of the most exciting and most unusual prep games ever played. The Yankees were the heirs to many incredible breaks, but were still unable to top the Colonials who won out 34-25. The next two league contests were "crucials" for the locals who had to meet Marshall and Venice on successive Fridays. The Lions responded like true champions to down Marshall, 21-20 on Jack Tiano's three conversions, and topple Venice, 28-20. In the latter outing, bulldozing full-back Ralph Snookal sparked the Lions to the victory.

Riding on the crest of three great victories, the Lions let down the next week and were handed their first league loss by University, 21-13. Hollywood didn't meet a demoralized team the next week as the locals bounced back to murder the Shieks, 48-12.

Varsity Basketball

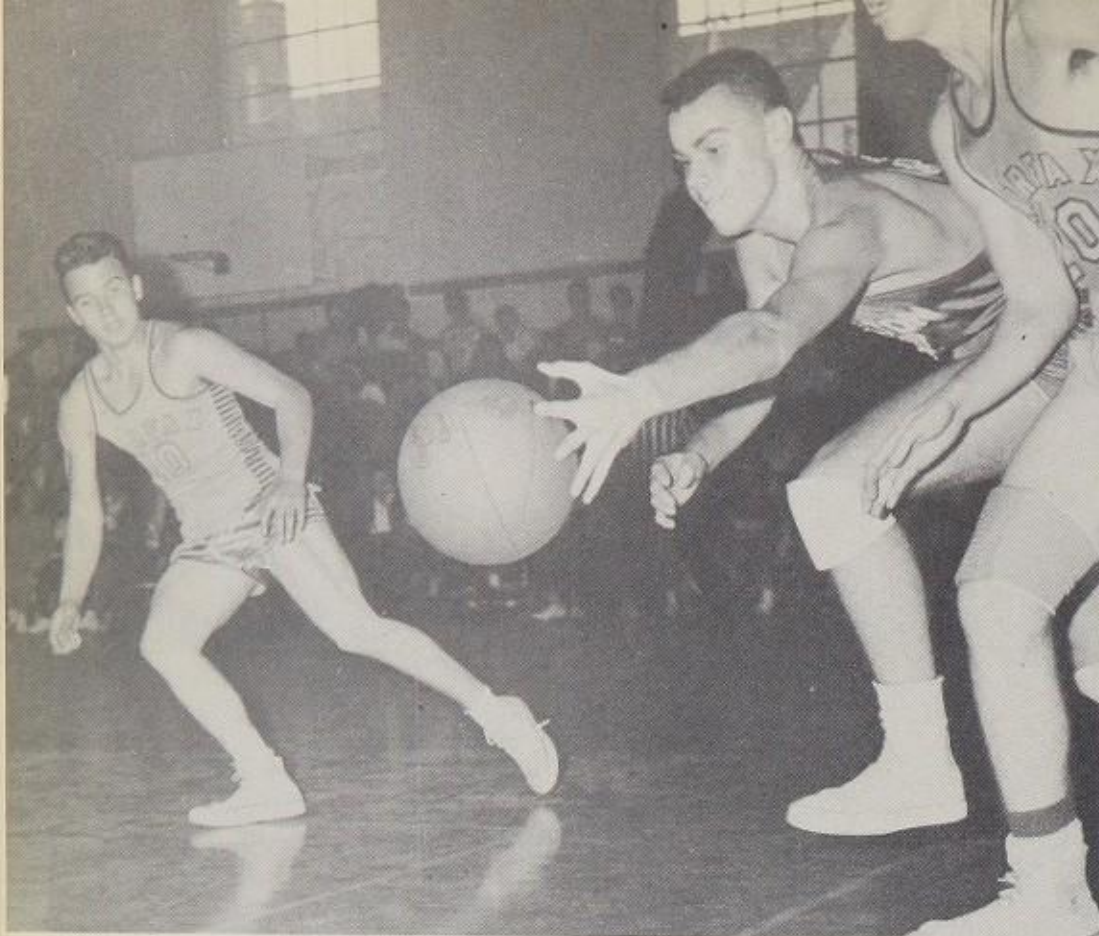

Carl Avazian jumps for two points.

The Fairfax Colonials varsity basketball team achieved but one distinction in the '56-'57 season, and that a highly dubious one: for the second straight year they occupied the Western League cellar.

The "Furious Five" started off the season by winning two of their four practice games, nipping Dorsey 56-52 with Carl Avazian and Burt Ipp bucketing 14 and 13 points respectively; and over-powering a strong Birmingham five by the score of 70-54.

The lone Fairfax win during Western League competition was a 51-34 trouncing of Marshall. Despite a poor season there was a sprinkling of bright spots. The biggest of these was Burt Ipp, who led the team in scoring, free throw percentage, and rebounds. Carl Avazian, Fred Glantz, and Larry Gregory distinguished themselves with well-timed baskets and excellent floor play. Joel Fleiss, Jeff Gidlow, and Mike Robyn handled the forward positions and played spirited ball through most of the season. Other members of the squad were Jack Lerner, Norm Schaffer, Myron Feldman, and Stu Gordon.

Track

Lion Wonder Boy Jim Pease

Coaches Keith Lloyd and Richard Valentine had a handful of top competitors and good scoring teams, even though the Lion cinder squad was weakened by the lack of reserves. The Lions polished off Marshall, Venice and Hollywood, while losing to Hamilton and University. Fairfax gave Uni a 40-64 battle before losing to the Warriors, the finest track team in Western League history.

For the second consecutive year, defending league 440 champ, Harvey Giss, won the team high point honors. Harvey scored in the 100, 440 and high jump, in addition to anchoring the relay squad. Mel Ross was a consistent sprinter and always scored in the 100 and 220. Steve Scott did a masterful job in the 880 and 220, and proved to be a tireless competitor. Jim Pease was the top Fairfax miler, and the "machine" gave the fans many lasting memories with his performances on the track.

Dick Kemp soared to a record 12 feet 7 inches in the pole vault, while teammate Milt Miller scored in the high jump. Terry Evans was tops in the broad jump and big Bill Peters led the shot putters to victory.

The league meet was not run at the time of publication, but the competitors mentioned above were expected to easily win league medals and advance as city contenders for the Coliseum spike meet.

The Class Bee spike squad was tied for first at the time of publication having lost only to Marshall. The team had some top sprint stars in Bruce Wolfe, Stu Givot and hurdler Norman Jensen. 660 men Rod Karr and Dave Osofsky were tops in the league, as was ace shot put star Bob Barenfeld and all around field man Bob Schmaef.

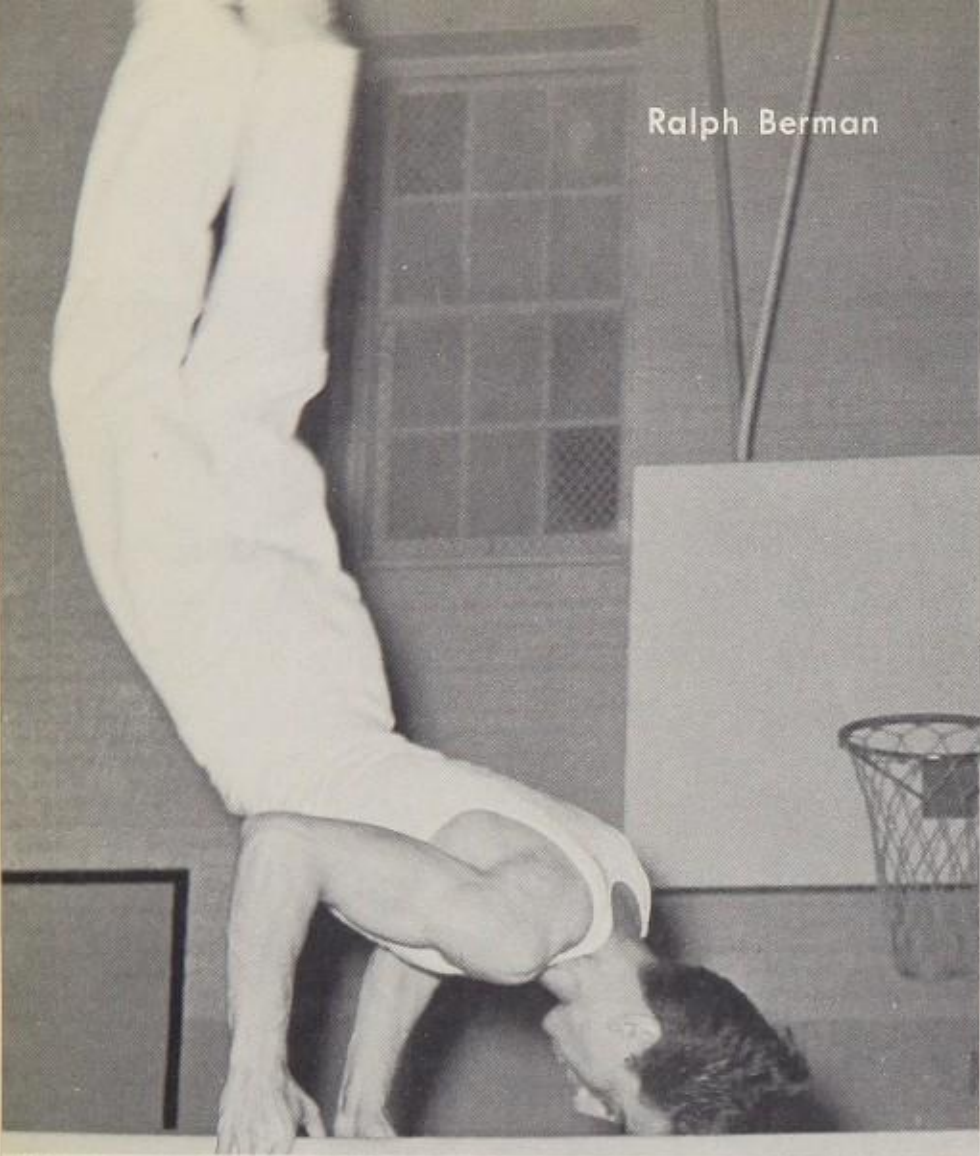

The Class Cee thinclads won the League championship by going undefeated this season. The team was led by hurdler and sprint ace Martin Levy. Harris Spivak and Jerry Marcus performed well in the sprints and hurdles, while Marco Castillo was tops in the 660. Bob Lane was the 1320 star, and Gene Genson approached school records in the broad jump and shot put.

Gym Team

The Fairfax gym team opened up the season with a new coach, Mr. Bishop, who previously had established a reputation as one of the finest coaches in Los Angeles with his record of winning teams at Roosevelt High.

Hopes were high for this team even though they lacked experience, with only four returning lettermen. The team improved steadily and after dropping its first two meets to strong Pasadena and Van Nuys teams, it started a winning streak of three straight, two of which were in Western League competition.

Coach Bishop predicted a second place spot for the Colonials in the Western League finals, but would not comment on the chance for an upset against Hamilton for first place.

Most of the team is made up of juniors and next year there will be no stopping the Colonials. The future looks bright for the Fairfax gym team.

ROW ONE: S. Gordon, J. Lerner, A. Yusem, T. Erdosi, F. Glantz, T. Newton, C. Rosenberg, J. Silvera, H. Reisbord. ROW TWO: E. Harris, D. Miller, G. Codon, S. Davis, E. Gorin, A. Kleinman, L. Varsity Baseball

On this year's Fairfax Varsity Baseball Team, there are some outstanding ball players who will probably receive City-wide recognition for their efforts. One of these is Al Yusem, who is the best catcher in the city, and may prove this by notching a berth on the all-city squad. Another is Jack Silvera, who is the mainstay of the varsity nine, both in hitting and pitching. Jack has already contributed a no-hitter against Marshall High School.

With half the season gone, Fairfax has a good chance to place high in the Dorsey Tournament, should they get good hurling from Chuck Rosenberg, Jack Silvera and Jack Lerner.

Coach Shaffer has a great deal to look forward to as he has four tenth graders playing first string this semester. These boys, who should bolster next year's nine are Tom Newton, Howie Reisbord, Joel Gora, and Howie Kaufman.

Under the watchful eye of Coach Leonard Taafe, the Fairfax Tennis Team had a highly successful season.

For the past three years, the tennis team has been carefully built up. The entire varsity team is composed of seniors with the exception of Lon Pynoos, a B-10.

Captain Alan Harris placed high in city ranks, as did Hal Price, who proved a constant threat to his opponents.

By his senior year, Jon Pynoos should be first in city rankings with little competition from other schools.

The depth of the team, with members like Earl Warren, Len Asimow and Saul Sacks, placed the team high in city ranks.

Coach Taafe felt that the team reached an all time high this season.

The Fairfax Cross-Country team, regarded by Coach Dave Ridderhof as the finest squad in the school's history, made a game bid for the Western League Crown during the 1956 season. The iron-lungers began the year by conquering their first 5 opponents in a very convincing manner, but because of a series of untimely injuries the team lost a great deal of strength, and was unable to obtain its goal—to win the title from University.

It was wonder boy Jim Pease who led the way for Fairfax by taking third place in the league meet. Jim was backed by a hard working group composed of Moe Levy, Captain Harvey Giss, Marty Bischoff, Dave Oyler, Mike Paige and Rod Karr. This group managed to snag a third place in dual meet standings.
